CHURCH OF THE ANNUNCIATION, City of Philadelphia, Philadelphia Count
Pennsylvania

The Church of the Annunciation is located at Twelfth and Diamond Streets in the North Philadelphia area. Attached to the church is a parish house, the upper floors of which serve as a residence for the rector. At the time of the visitation meeting, the rector, incumbent for 20 years, was the only member of the congregation present. The tremendous potential facing the congregation for a specialized ministry to the students of Temple University was discussed. Details on the history of the congregation, its properties, programs, and future policy are not available at this time since the congregation's leadership did not submit any materials for the Study.

THE CHURCH NEIGHBORHOOD

The ministry of the Church of the Annunciation extends over the North Philadelphia Area of the city. For the purposes of this Study, however, an arbitrary parish area has been assigned for this church. In conformity with existing United States Census Bureau divisions, this area comprises Census Tracts 20-A and B, 32-A and C, and 37-C. The Church of the Annunciation is located in Census Tract 32-A. The 1960 population of this arbitrarily assigned parish area was 39,759 persons.

With the exception of Census Tracts 32-A and C, no statistics are available on the 1950 population of the parish area. Census Tract 32-A had a 39.0% population decrease during the 1950 to 1960 census, from 13,019 in 1950 to 7,942 in 1960. Of the 1960 population, children 14 years of age and under were 35.1%, adults 65 years of age and over were 5.4% and non-white persons were 90.4%. The median family income of the census tract was $2,792.00. Approximately 42.5% of the residents occupied the same dwellings during the 1955 to 1960 period. Similar data on the additional census tracts in the parish area appear in the chart below. It will be noted that the area is predominately occupied by non-whites and that almost one-third of the population comprised children 14 years of age and under. Attention is also called to the very low median family income of the area.

Information is also available on the educational characteristics of adults 25 years of age and over in the parish area in 1960. In Census Tract 32-A, high school graduates were 11.6%. College graduates were 2.7% and 2.6% had received from one to three years of college training. The median educational level of this census tract was 8.2 years.

The median age for males was 22.0 years and for females 24.6 years.

Comparable information appears in the following chart:

This Study located a total of 40,061 Episcopalian who represent 3.3% of the 1960 population of the City of Philadelphia. Of these Episcopalian, 527, or 1.3%, were directly associated with the Church of the Annunciation. A total of 348 Episcopalian were located within the arbitrarily assigned parish area. The highest concentration existed in Census Tract 32-C and the lowest in Census Tract 37-C. Since no membership map was submitted by the congregation, it is impossible to determine the extent of parish membership in each of the census tracts.
